COMPANY OVERVIEW

The Learning Box International LLC is a woman-owned, minority-certified learning and development consultancy that designs and delivers practical, future-focused learning programs for students, educators, institutions, and government clients. The company provides curriculum development, instructional design, professional development, workforce readiness, AI literacy, technical assistance, and capacity-building solutions. TLB's work is built around its proprietary TRANSFORM Method and is designed to create scalable, measurable learning outcomes

CORE COMPETENCIES

Training Design & Curriculum Development

Instructor-led, hybrid, and eLearning training programs for federal agency workforces, grounded in ISD principles, adult learning theory, ADDIE methodology, and TLB's proprietary TRANSFORM Method.

Workforce Development Programs

End-to-end program design and delivery for workforce readiness, upskilling, and reskilling, including programs connected to WIOA and federal workforce development initiatives.

Technical Assistance & Capacity Building

Support for government grantees, subrecipients, and implementing partners in education and workforce development, with a focus on sustainable local capacity.

International Education & Development

Curriculum development, educator capacity building, and instructional systems design for international development programs, including USAID-funded education and workforce initiatives in Sub-Saharan Africa and emerging markets.
